

SHIPS, SITES AND

Photo: Tom Heavener
Art Heavener, Editor of SOUTH JERSEY SOARING SOCIETY'S NEWSLETTER, poses with his children Geraldine and Stephen in Club's 1-19.

Photo: Tom Page
The Schweizer SGU-1-19A, experimental LK-10A and Ford V-8 tow car owned by The Illinois Glider Club, with the PT-17 and Aeronca which they rent from the University Institute of Aviation.

The very high aspect ratio and slender wing are apparent in the Italian designed and built SPILLO.

Photo: Nick Goodhart
Wave cloud over Tehachafi Pass during Goodhart's visit to Bishop this winter.

Photo: Art B. Milloy
John and Jane Jednacz of the Philadelphia Glider Council, appear to have enjoyed their flight!

Photo: Allan Ash
The Hawkrige "Venture" two-seater training sailplane built by members of the Dubbo Gliding Club, NSW, Australia. Harold Bolton, the designer, is now with Republic Aircraft Company in New York.

Photo: Jim Spurge
Sandra Sebby, Queen Evelyn Renshaw, and Penny Mast, display their charms and the distance and championship trophies, during Torrey Pines Meet.