

Photo: Paul W. Heasley

The photographer chases the Pratt-Read sailplane of the Douglas Soaring Club, piloted by Vic Saudek, around a thermal just downwind of El Mirage Field near Adelanto, California. Dark fields at lower right are cultivated desert (alfalfa) which provide differential solar heating as a byproduct, the better for generation of thermals.