

State to sample some of our Pincher Creek Wave. No doubt there will be other reports covering this weekend but I feel that it is fitting to mention Ed McClanahan's fine flight to 33,000 feet and the fact that Frank Woodward, a Canadian living in Seattle, Washington, earned his altitude diamond with a flight in a Ka-6BR to 18,500 feet. And, although Kurtz Wiess lost both of his multi-place Canadian altitude records, he did earn his Gold C altitude and altitude diamond.

BIBLIOGRAPHY ON SOARING

Recent articles or items on soaring which have appeared in non-soaring publications.

Aviation Week., Oct. 16, 1961, p. 83, Article on the Czech light aircraft industry with photo of the two-place, all-metal, tandem L-13 Blanik sailplane (Russia has 200 of 300 built) and a winch.

XMAS GIFT MEMBERSHIPS

To simplify your Christmas shopping for friends who are prospective soaring enthusiasts why not give Associate memberships in SSA? The $5 dues will bring them a full year of enjoyment through Soaring magazine and provide a proper introduction to the sport. SSA will send a letter to each recipient informing him of your gift. Current SSA members renewing their own memberships this December can send in gift memberships at the same time.
