

Photo by S. A. Aldott

Alvin H. Parker in a Schweizer 1-23H sailplane searches for waves over unfriendly country northwest of Carlsbad, New Mexico. Such terrain is not as forbidding to experienced soaring pilots as it might seem and often produces very powerful upcurrents.