

Photo by Robert Lee Moore

A Schleicher Ka-6BR Standard Class sailplane being flown by Joe Robertson over Eastern Washington near Wenatchee. A later model of this all-wood German design was flown to the World Standard Class Championship by Heinz Huth last month in Argentina, for the second time in a row. This photo placed fourth in SSA's 1962 contest for photos of sailplanes in flight.